Extend Date On Closing

Aircraft Guide Problem To Be Sent To Board

Congressman William Randall reported to William Hall, Industrial Development director, and Gary Cooper, executive manager of the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce, that the Federal Aviation Agency had granted a 45-day extension on the question of closing the Blackwater VOR station.

Randall's report came a few hours after a telephone conversation with Hall in which Randall expressed only optimism about saving the very high omni-range station which guides aircraft to area airports.

In the earlier conversation, Randall mentioned only the possibility of an extension, but then called later to say the 45day extension had been made

Hall reported at a meeting Thursday morning that he had called for a special gathering of the Sedalia Airport Board at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in his office to discuss the problem.

He indicated that the airport board should take up the issue at a hearing sometime next month concerning the fate of the VOR station. No specific date on the hearing was announced.

In his monthly report to the city council earlier this week, Hall said about the FAA action:"The Director of this department (Industrial Development Department) seriously questions the integrity, foresight, or the ability of engineers or economists who have planned such moves. Of course, they do not live in this area, or fly in and out of this area, and possibly could care less what happens in this area.

He further charged that the FAA plan to discontinue operation of the VOR station at Blackwater is being considered without regard for air

Hall said he telephoned Randall Wednesday afternoon. In that conversation, he said, Randall reported there was a little more hope and encouragement as a result of efforts to stop the FAA from closing the station

Power to Facility Hall said he pointed out that George Ray, manager of the Central Missouri Electrical Cooperative, which provides the VOR station with power, had not received notification of discontinuance. Hall said the coop had a contract requiring 30 days notice before closing of a station. He indicated, however, that Randall did not seem to feel this was any intimation of the FAA's plans.

Hall also had a copy of a letter from Richard H.Ichord, congressman from the Eighth Missouri District, which stated that Ichord had been working with Randall on the issue.

The letter, addressed to J.Leo Hayobb of the Marshall Chamber of Commerce, said, in part, Ichord has "... hope that we will be able to save the station.

Nothing Firm Yet

The VOR station was to be closed July 20. According to Hall, Randall said Wednesday: "I don't know that the cause is lost. They may extend for 30 days, but that isn't official." What prompted the FAA reversal in position was not known.

There seems no immediate end to the division in thought on the issue, but the Randall and Sedalia groups are continuing to argue the case. Hall said the discussion would continue as long as there seems some hope the station could be kept.

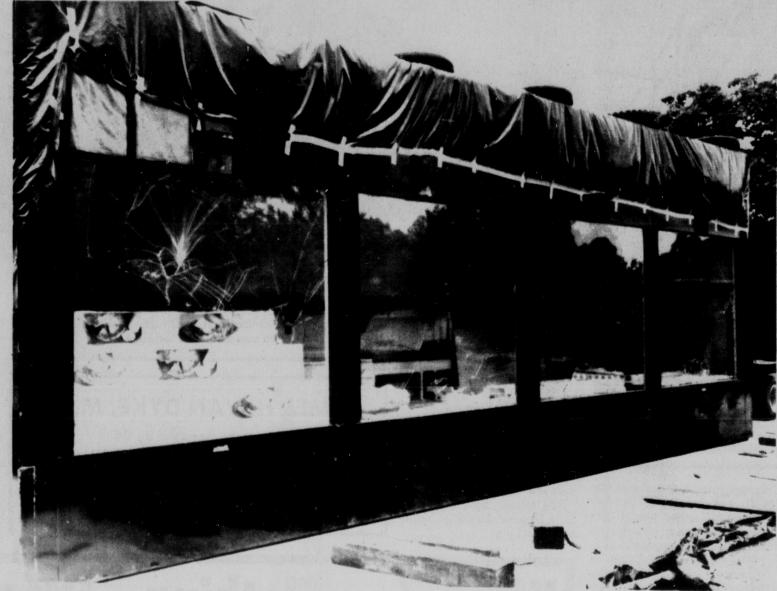

The basic purpose of the station is to help guide aircraft using instrument navigation to their landing places. Several large local manufacturers use such planes and these, according to Hall, would not be able to land here without the VOR station at Blackwater.

New Plant Bids Sought

Sedalia industrial development director William H. Hall said Wednesday the Olin Mathieson Chemical Corporation's Metal Division, Olin Conductors, will announce results of letting contracts in about two weeks.

Hall said bid forms have been sent out for part of the work on the new operation. He added that no information concerning the bids is available now, but should be in two weeks. The new plant will be located west of Sedalia.

Expect Progress

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) - A Negro leader predicts that a revolutionary movement to develop economic, political and cultural resources for Negroes will grow out of a national black power conference opening today in this riot-scarred city.

"We are going to set forth the need for developing programs that do not bring 'relief' to people — but do bring power," said Dr. Nathan W. Wright Jr., conference chairman and director of urban work for the Episcopal diocese of Newark.

'This is going to cause a great deal on debate and stir in many, many circles," he said in an interview. The black power slogan sent the civil rights movement into divisive debate over its meaning and effect when it was seized as a rallying cry on the 1966 Mississippi civil rights march

Wright, articulating his view, said Negroes must first "set their own house in order." The roots of their problems, he said. 'are to be found in the attitudes and lack of hope within the Negro community.

The brief but successful ambush in coastal Quang Ngai Province was the heaviest ground fighting reported, but a company of American paratroopers located a Red prison camp in the jungle and freed 22 emaciated Vietnamese captives, including three women. There was no sign of any Americans in the bamboo stockade.

Funds were contained in a $4.6 billion public works appropriations bill, carrying funds also for the Atomic Energy Commission. The bill now goes to the House.

The committee approved a total of $1,261,845,000 for use by Army Engineers and $304,840,-000 for the Reclamation Bureau. These represented reductions of $45,840,000 and $11,191,000 respectively from amounts as recommended by President Johnson in his

Turns Down Plea From Coppolino

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) -The 2nd District Court of A ppeals has turned down a plea from Dr. Carl Coppolino to review a lower court order which denied him freedom on bond.

The Korean Marines caught the Viet cong company moving inland through the jungle about eight miles north of Quang Ngai City. The Korean squad was strung out along the trail and opened up with machine guns and a rain of grenades and mortars.

The fight lasted only a few minutes before the Communist troops plunged back into the jungle, leaving 22 weapons behind in addition to their dead and captured. The Koreans suffered no casualties, their headquarters reported.

The U.S. Command reported a comparative lull in the ground war for the 10th consecutive day and a decline in the number of Americans killed last week. The command said 175 Americans were killed, 1,443 wounded and 38 missing, compared with 282 killed, 1,170 wounded and one missing the week before.

Despite the lull in ground and its pilot. North Vietnam continued unabated with new raids on Hanoi's rail lines to Red China and oil dumps and other supply targets up and down the coast.

The American paratroops acted on an intelligence tip to surprise the Communists at the jungle prison camp in Quang Ngai Province, in the northern st Corps area.

The Americans from the 101st Airborne Division's 1st Brigade hacked their way through the jungle Wednesday and opened up on the guards around the camp who fled. The GI's plunged through the 10-foot bamboo wall, across a trench booby-trapped with sharp punji stakes and into the small clearing of bamboo huts.

They found a dozen men shackled in leg stocks and all the prisoners weak from hunger.

Helicopters took the prisoners to the paratroopers' base hospital for treatment and questioning. American and South Vietnamese troops rarely find Communist prison camps and information concerning them is highly valued.

Annual Income Proposal

DETROIT (AP) - The guaranteed annual income proposal under negotiation between the nation's automakers and the United Auto Workrs Union will not be so extensive as the union first indicated, it was learned

For one thing, the companies would be meeting the major part of the guarantee each time they handed paychecks to their working employes. And, for another, the proposal contains a number of provisions likely to curtail absenteeism company men fear would spiral as a result of guaranteed annual income. While details of the plan are unsettled at the bargaining table, unimpeachable sources made it plain that the union demand falls far short of what had been envisioned in prebargaining speculation.

Originally, the UAW leaders talked of guaranteeing a worker a full year's income from the point when he became laid off.

This suggestion drew sharp criticism from auto company executives who, in private, scoffed at "the scheme to pay people for not working." They also said the absenteeism rate would skyrocket. "If a guy could get paid without working, who would work?" one executive said. "I wouldn't. Now, UAW President Walter

P. Reuther has presented the actual demand in closed conferences with the automakers, and union insiders say the proposal does not include some of the possibilities the companies found economically fearful. Bargainers for the companies have the proposal under study and have declined comment on it so far.

Would Like Briefings At Capital

WASHINGTON (AP)-Sen. J.W. Fulbright says he wants future foreign policy briefings for congressional leaders moved to Capitol Hill and away from the awesome atmosphere of the White House

'One does not contradict kings in their palaces or Presidents in the White House with the freedom and facility with which one contradicts the king's ministers in Parliament or the President's Cabinet members in committee," Fulbright told a Senate Judiciary subcommittee Wednesday.

As matters stand, said the Arkansas Democrat, the Johnson administration makes "a ceremonial occasion" out of informing senators and House members of presidential decisions already made, giving them little opportunity to offer

Fulbright, a Vietnam war policy critic who heads the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. said he thinks "meaningful consultation with Congress must take place on Congress' own grounds with the representa-tives of the President who can he spoken to in candor and who will speak to us in candor."

He said such a change in procedure would be a step in the direction of the Senate's reclaiming its constitutional rights to play a stronger role in the shaping of American foreign policy. "I have the feeling-only a feeling, not yet a convictionthat constitutional change is in the making," he said. "It is too soon to tell, but there are signs in Congress, particularly in the Senate, of growing uneasiness" over the extent of executive

He said this is evidenced by "a growing willingness to raise questions that a year or so ago might have gone unasked, to challenge decisions that would have gone unchallenged, and to try to distinguish between real emergencies and situations which, for reasons of executive convenience, are only said to be emergencies.

Twenty Could Not Work Slaves Witnesses On Sunday Testify was against the law in Parkville

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP) -One of the two men charged with kidnaping a motel night clerk was bound over for trial Wednesday after a day-long preliminary hearing in County Court.

Twenty witnesses testified for the state in the case against Donald L. Lynch, 26, after which Judge Pro Tem Wayne Allphin Jr., ordered the defendant held for trial and continued bond at $50,000.

Lynch was returned to the county jail to await trial at the November term of District Court. He and a companion, Bruce Sparks, 18, both of Dayton, Ohio, are charged with kidnaping, assault and armed rob-

Sparks was injured in Salina when their car crashed into a building following a 140-mile chase from Lawrence. He still is in custody at Salina, and no date for his arraignment has been

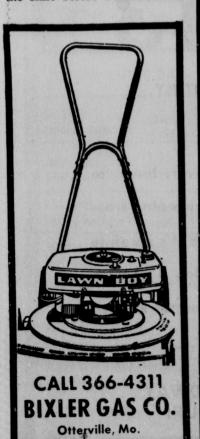

Thomas E. Daniels, a 25-yearold University of Kansas student who was employed as a night clerk at the Virginia Inn, was taken as a hostage by two men who held up the inn.

Daniels was killed by a bullet presumably fired by police as the chase reached a climax in Salina and the fleeing car crashed into a building.

The bandits got $305 in the holdup at the Virginia Inn, $35.50 at another holdup at the Navajo Motel and $69.60 from a liquor store holdup.

Among those who testified Wednesday was Mrs. William Maertens, 56, who was shot in the stomach in the robbery of the Navajo Motel June 27. She and her husband operate the motel.

Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: Today as I was standing in line at the grocery store I saw something I could not believe. If I had been told about this incident, instead of witnessing it with my own eyes, I would have thought it was a made-up story

As the line moved toward the checkout counter we passed a rack of cigarets, candy bars and chewing gum. In front of me stood a mother and her son, who appeared to be about 10 years of age. This mother picked up a candy bar, dropped it into her son's pocket and then she winked at him and put her finger to her lips, cautioning him to keep quiet.

I watched and listened carefully as the woman checked out her groceries. She did not say one word about the candy

I am not asking what you think of a mother who would do such a thing. I know your answer to that one. What I need to know is what was MY responsibility, as an observer? Please advise at once. I'm shook.—WHAT A WORLD

Dear World: If I had been in your shoes I would have followed the woman out of the store, taken her aside, away from the hearing of her son, and told her that she had obviously forgotten to pay for the candy bar. I would have further suggested that she make sure her son saw her pay for the candy bar because surely she would not want her boy to think his mother was a thief. If this were done in a gentle, nonaccusatory but firm manner, you could have taught that mother a very valuable lesson.

Dear Ann Landers: What do you think of a girl who invites

I had a talk with the young lady and told her that this was not my idea of decent behavior, either by her or her mother. Dear Savannah: You don't say how old your son is, and this is an important factor. If he is 16 or 17 you ought to let him have it with both barrels, and snap him out of his deafness right now. If he is of legal age he can do as he pleases so save your breath to whistle Dixie.

Talking to the girl, and especially putting the knock on her mother was a mistake. You might have known she would not be receptive to your ideas. My advice is to stay away from her and stop fighting with your son about this mess. One day he may get tired of the girl but if you continue to criticize her he might hang on just to 'prove' that he can live his own life.

Taking A Look At Role In Vietnam

WASHINGTON (AP) - Undersecretary of State Nicholas Katzenbach says the administration is "taking a good hard look" at its role as a major supplier in the world's spiraling arms taffic.

But Katzenbach cautioned: 'That doesn't necessarily mean it thinks it's been wrong in the past, or that anything's going to change overnight. It's an awfully complicated problem-one that involves different kinds of problems in different parts of the world.

The administration's arms export policy has come in for increasing congressional criticism since the six-day Middle East war. Senators have talked of legislative restrictions on arms sales to potentially explosive areas. A House committee is scrutinizing the role of the Export-Import Bank in financing secret arms deals.

So far, Pentagon and State Department sources indicate. there has been no hint of a major change in the policy under which the United States has sold or given away $46.1 billion in military hardware since 1949.

The business-as-usual atmosphere continues despite two government-financed reports by a private consulting organization that indicate:

-The weapons used in virtually every one of a dozen re-gional conflicts since World War II have come from outside sources-primarily the arsenals of the United States, the Soviet Union, Great Britain and France. -While more nations will begin producing their own hardware in the next decade, "the majority of local conflicts will be fought primarily with imported weapons.' -The introduction of weapons into already tense regional situations has not infrequently "provoked or hastened the outbreak of fighting.'

-The end of one regional conflict usually is the signal for a renewed arms buildup that leads almost inevitably to further fighting at a more dangerous level.

-Unless there is cooperation among major powers to curtail arms deliveries, arms traffic will continue to a point where, for example, strategic ballistic missiles may be deployed through the Middle East by the early 1970s.

The reports were prepared by Browne & Shaw Research Corp., of Waltham, Mass., a regular Defense Department consultant. In "Project Diffusion," a study of the woldwide spread of combat planes and missiles, the organization concluded "the most pressing problem of U.S. military export control policy is the establishment of a more uniform view within the government.

"Some official spokesmen are urging industry to increase its export sales of military equipment. Others at a very high level have deplored the cost, particularly to developing countries, of purchasing such equip-

One disgruntled munitions control expert in the government remarked, "We've built up a little empire here, and no one is willing to stand up and make a decision that this can't go on. Nobody's in charge."

What is the extent of the worldwide traffic in arms?

The United States alone. since 1950, has given other nations 8,540 jet fighters, 20,279 tanks, 30,340 missiles and MOSCOW (AP) - Chinese Communist Red Guards crossed the eastern Soviet border several days in a row and taunted Soviet frontier soldiers, Pravda reported Wednesday. It said several hundred to 1,000 Chinese were involved.

The story by correspondent Konstantin Simonov about a visit to Khabarovsk, 400 miles north of Vladivostok and less than 50 miles from China, did not say when or exactly where the incidents occurred. It said they took place when the Issuri River was frozen.

There were no military clashes "in the direct sense of this word," Smonov said. He said WHAT BIG EYES you the Chinese drove trucks have, grandma! BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — The military strongmen of Paraguay and Argentina went into their second day of talks today on economic issues and the guerrilla outbreaks in neighboring Bolivia.

Paraguay's president, Gen. Alfredo Stroessner, landed at Aeroparque Airport Tuesday in a heavy rain. Argentina's president, Gen. Juan Carlos Ongania, greeted him.

Demographers—professional people countBack to Cash-and-Discount ers—are happy about the nation's steadily declining birth rate, which this year will reach a record low But, characteristically, they unhappily warn that it's too early to celebrate our escape from becoming a totally urbanized, congested nation.

We are continuing to grow in numbers. Sometime around January 1, 1968, U.S. population will reach 200 million. Even taking into account the falling birth rate (the number of live births per thousand of population), one estimate is that at the turn of the century it will be 340 million.

One reason for the present birth rate decline, according to David Goldberg, University of Michigan sociologist, is the numerical disproportion between marriageable young women and marriageable young men.

Most women marry between 18 and 21, and they generally marry men between 21 and 24. But since 1956, there have been fewer men than women looking for them.

Today, there are about one million more women than men in these age categories, says Goldberg.

But this imbalance will disappear as the boys born in the baby boom 10 to 20 years ago become available. In fact, the imbalance will be reversed in the 1980s and we may very well see an upsurge in the birth rate.

As Robert C. Cook of the Population Reference Bureau puts it, "It is these boom babies who are now coming to the reproductive pause is the preference expressed by American women in various polls for a family of slightly more than three children.

If American women really do average 3.5 children from now to the end of the century, U.S. population would double to 400 million.

'Nearly all parents," says Cook, "ridicule the idea that having one additional child could contribute to a national calamity. Yet this is the situation today."

Look Inside Box Into Red China

By JAMES MARLOW AP News Analyst WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk raised the lid just enough for a brief look

-a subject which seems to be getting scant public Yet, it will haunt this country, probably for

inside a box of dynamite-Red China of the future

In the midst of one of his infrequent news conferences he warned Red China and Asian Communists generally against "taking any comfort" from Britain's decision to withdraw militarily from the Far East by the mid-1970s.

Countries in that area, he said, are bent on defending their freedom. And he said they have the help of various nations, including the United States. 'We'll get on with the job," he added.

He didn't explain how this country—after its experience in Vietnam—would help other Asian countries against aggression. Would it mean possibly the involvement of the United States for

That there is critical trouble ahead with Red China seems certain.

At the moment it has stayed out of the Vietnam war perhaps for one of several reasons, some of them cynical.

It has been having enough internal trouble to keep it busy for a while without getting into a war with the United States

If there is one thing clear from China's present internal disquiet, it is that Mao Tse-tung wants above everything for his idea of communism to be the dominant force in his country not only now but long after his death.

The uncertainties of a war with the United States might force changes which, if he only had time to establish his own ideas more firmly, could not

Further, the Red Chinese have been concentrating for years on developing hydrogen bombs and missiles. They have had phenomenal success so far with the bomb development. A war might wreck the whole project.

But the last thing the Red Chinese have to worry about is being in a hurry to communize or dominate their neighbors. Those neighbors will be there a long time.

When China has the bomb fully developed, and the missiles to carry it, the balance of power in Asia will change, and perhaps change in the world. Therefore, it can afford cynically to sit idly by while the Vietnamese war goes on.

Suppose the North Vietnamese are forced to withdraw by the American forces. And, suppose further, with American help South Vietnam then creates a non-Communist, democratic government. This could last for some years -but only so long as the missile-loaded Chinese found it convenient-until China decided it was time to move in, either directly or indirectly with local Communist

Would the United States then be willing to risk an atomic war with China for South Vietnam? Or by then through fear and fatigue would South Vietnam be far more ready to accept Communist

If this happens, then all of this country's sacrifices

Or suppose a nuclear China began pressuring the other neighbors around its vast perimeter. Would their present resistance to communism, strong today when the United States and not Red China is the nuclear power, then melt?

It seems obvious that as China grows in nuclear strength the various local Communist parties within China's neighbors will feel strengthened and become more active.

The best hope for this country is that a more reasonable group will take over Red China's leadership when the fanatics of Mao's generation die off. At best this is only a hope, and maybe not a sound

What lies ahead looks like a nightmare.

Immortal Scarlett

As long as the motion picture 'Gone With the Wind' continues to be revived Vivien Leigh, who died recently from tuberculosis in London, will be immortal as Scarlett O'Hara.

The great civil war picture brought fame to its author Margaret Mitchell and to Vivien Leigh who played the starring role of Scarlett, but neither woman profited very much financially from the success of the book or the movie. Both women died unusual deaths. Margaret Mitchell was killed in an automobile accident, and Vivien Leigh was found dead in her bed, apparently in the final stages of tuberculosis.

Vivien was a truly great actress, dedicated to her art. She achieved world fame as Scarlett in the motion pcture, but even after winning an Oscar for that performance she once remarked that the role of Scarlett was very shallow compared to Shakespeare's 'Cleopatra.'

Many theaters remained dark as a tribute to this beautiful and talented actress following the news of her lonely death, and even Sir Laurence Olivier, her ex-husband to whom she had been married for twenty years, paid his respects to the woman he once loved.

Turkey In The Summer? Why not for outdoor meals? Hot summer days signal the beginning of the outdoor cup water. Melt butter. cooking season. Selecting the Combine with other meat is one concern of the family food buyer. This year, with red meat prices on the uptrend, turkey will be the choice of many outdoor cooks. Turkey can stretch the food dollar and provide good eating for summer meals. Right now there are record large stocks of frozen turkeys.

Nutritive value: Turkey leads the list of lean meats in high protein content. In addition, it is the highest source of the important B vitamins, niacin and riboflavin. Recent tests completed at Cornell University establish turkey as highest in protein and lowest in cholesterol of all other poultry and red meats except veal. The same tests revealed that turkey meat is extremely low in calories, although it contains sufficient fat for tenderness and palatability.

Storage: Turkey is usually frozen and should be stored in the freezer until ready to defrost and use. Thawing time varies widely, depending on the size of the bird, or pieces, and the method used. Thawing at room temperature, unwrapped, is not recommended because of the possibility of contamination. Recommended procedure (No. 1) is thawing in the refrigerator, in the original wrap, on a tray. This requires one to three days. Recommended procedure (No. 2) is to thaw the bird, still in its original water tight wrap under cold running water, or immersed in cold water. This requires three to four hours for the fryerroaster, and six to seven hours for the larger birds.

Grilled turkey pieces: A four to seven pound turkey is best for grilling. Turkeys weighing near seven pounds should be cut up as follows: two wings, two drumsticks, two thighs, four pieces breast, two pieces back. The smaller birds can be cut into halves or quarters. Season with salt, pepper, and brush generously with butter.

1. Start fire 30 to 40 minutes before cooking. Fire is ready when a grey ash covers coals. (Wind and air movement will affect the intensity of heat.)

2. Place turkey pieces on grill 6 to 8 inches above coals. (The wings and back pieces may be added 1/2 hour after the meaty pieces.)

Cook (turning occasionally) about 11/2 hours. If desired, baste with barbecue sauce during the last 30 minutes of cooking.

Whole roast turkey: Thaw remove giblets. Wash, drain, and pat dry. Sprinkle body cavity with salt. Secure drumsticks to tail, fasten neck skin to back with skewer. Flatten wings over breast and then tie cord around breast to hold wings securely. Do not stuff. Insert spit rod through center of bird from tail end toward front. Test balance, so that turkey will rotate smoothly. Arrange hot charcoal briquets at back of firebox and a foil drip pan in front of briquets. Place spit in rotisserie and start motion. Brush turkey with melted butter at the teginning of cooking. When using a barbecue sauce, brush on the bird the last 30 to 40 minutes of cooking only. Turkey is done when thickest part of drumstick feels very soft when pressed between protected fingers, or when a

Barbecue sauce (That is a favorite of many): 1/2 teaspoon salt; 1/2 teaspoon pepper; 1 tablespoon paprika; 1 tablespoon sugar; ½ clove garlic or 1/2 teaspoon garlic salt; 1 medium onion, chopped: 1 cup catsup; 1/2 cup water; one-third cup lemon juice or vinegar; 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce; 1/4 cup

Poultry meat should be cooked slowly and as far from the heat as possible.

Kinds of Whipped Topping On a dessert in recent times it is not necessarily made from heavy whipped cream. Today, whipped products can be made from sterilized whipping cream, cream or vegetable oil-based liquids in pressurized cans, dry vegetable oil-based mixed, frozen vegetable oil-based liquids, evaporated milk and nonfat dry milk, as well as from pasteurized heavy cream. Each varies in cost, convenience, caloric content and characteristics of a whipped product. To make a wise decision at the market, we need to know something these products.

Whipping Cream: Pasteurized heavy cream will double to triple in volume when whipped. So an 8-ounce (half-pint) container yields two to three cups of whipped cream. When cold and whipped in a chilled bowl, it whips easily without other ingredients to form a product that is smooth, thick and glossy. Sugar and other flavorings may be added. The primary advantage of whipped heavy cream is its flavor. On the other hand, heavy cream has a relatively high cost and calorie count, important points to those watching their budget or weight. There are about 25 calories per tablespoon of whipped cream. Whipped Topping and Cream in Pressurized Cans: Aerosol cans contain whipped toppings, these are true convenience foods. Simply remove the can from the refrigerator, shake it, and squirt out the topping. A harmless gas or mixture of gases is dissolved in the cream under pressure. The cream is whipped when the propellant gas expands as the cream is released through the nozzle. The fluffy foam is not as stable as whipped heavy cream. Because of this, the topping should be released just before serving. The cost of packaging and adding the propellant makes pressurized cans of cream and topping more expensive than other whipped products. Pressurized cans of whipping cream sell for more than pressurized vegetable oilbased topping. It is impossible for the entire contents to be expelled from the pressurized can-often 10 to 25 per cent of the contents remain in the can. Many companies fill the cans with enough liquid so that the net weight shown on the can should equal the dispensable contents. Caloric content is not indicated but estimates have been made at approximately 20 calories per tablespoon.

Whipped topping mixed are dry and are whipped with milk and vanilla to form a very stable foam. Their whipability is uniform, resists "weeping" or collapsing, and can be frozen and thawed without breakdown. The many ingredients in the topping are listed on the package in descending order of prominence. These mixes are sold in boxes containing foil envelopes of the mix. A 2 to 21/2 ounce packet of mix whipped with 1/2 to two-thirds cup of milk will yield about 2 to 23/4 cups of topping. Convenience may be an advantage to this item. The unopened envelopes have a long shelf life. Once whipped they will hold for a day or so in the refrigerator. Calories approximately 14 per tablespoon.

Evaporated milk can be whipped, undiluted, if it is very cold. For best results place the bowl of milk in the freezer until ice crystals form

Conigliaro Bolsters Red Sox Title Hopes

Associated Press Sports Writer

Tony Conigliaro is back in uniform-a baseball uniformand has the Boston Red Sox marching steadily toward the front of the line in the American League.

The right-handed slugger, counting cadence with his bat, has been driling baseball off walls and over them since returning from two-week Army Reserve summer camp.

The surprising Red Sox took another step Tuesday night as Conigliaro slammed two triples and a double, powering Boston to a 6-4 victory over Baltimore and moving the Sox 11/2 games from league-leading Chicago. The White Sox made it possible by losing to California 5-2, their third straight defeat. Boston also pulled within a half-game of second-place Minnesota, which fell again to Kansas City, 9-6.

In other American League games, Washington beat Detroit 4-2 and Cleveland halted the New York Yankees 5-2.

In the National League, St. Louis overcame Cincinnati 3-2 in 12 innings, Pittsburgh nipped San Francisco 2-1 in 11 innings. Los Angeles outlasted Philadelphia 3-1 in 11 innings, the Chicago Cubs topped Atlanta 7-2, and the New York Mets swept a doubleheader from Houston 8-4 and 7-2.

The Red Sox have been standing far back in line watching n ost everybody go by since 1958, the last time they finished in first division. They were picked for the tail end again this year, but stunned everyone by keeping in step. with the leaders all the way.

Tuesday night they won their sixth straight game.

After Mike Andrews cracked a three-run homer to get things started in the fifth inning, Conigliaro tripled home the two decisive runs after an earlier double.

He added an insurance run in the eighth with another triple,

Hamilton and Minnie Rojas, who combined to pull the Angels only 2½ game back with For Draft their 30th victory in 42 games.

Hamilton hurled into the seventh inning and led 5-2 as Tom Satriano knocked out Joel Horlen, 11-3, with a two-run double in a three-run fourth inning, and Bobby Knoop and Jimmie Hall followed later with solo homers off Bruce Howard. Rojas came on to save hi 14th game.

Minnesota missed a third straight chance to gain a tie for first place when the Athletics broke loose for five runs in the eighth inning, highlighted by Ozzie Chavarria's tie-breaking two-run single.

The Twins had gone ahead in the seventh when Cesar Tovar doubled in two runs and Tony Oliva singled in another, and Bob Allison's solo homer in the eighth made it 6-4.

Paul Casanova broke a ninthinning tie at Detroit when he singled in his second run of the game for Washington's ninth victory in 10 outings. Another run scored on the play on a throwing error.

The loss left Detroit 31/2 commented. games back in the evertightening race.

Tony Horton supplied the clincher for Cleveland, tripling home the tie-breaking run in the eighth inning and then scoring when Yankee third baseman Roy White failed to cover the base on the throw from the outfield. Rookie Vern Fuller, just up from Portland, followed with a home run as the Indians ended a five-game losing streak.

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It was a night worth talking about for fans of both the St. Louis Cardinals and the Kansas City Athletics.

The Cards stayed one game ahead of Chicago in the hot National League title chase Wednesday night by edging Cincinnati 3-2. Roger Maris tied Cincy with a homer in the eighth and Bobby Tolan beat the Reds with the swing he didn't take in the 12th. He walked with the bases loaded.

The A's made it three straight, whipping Minnesota 9-6 at Kansas City, as Alvin Dark used a squeeze bunt to tie the game and a two-run single by an .098 hitter to win it. Rookie Rick Monday, breaking out of a month-long slump, smashed two doubles, scored three runs and batted in two more. His second double, a towering smash off the screen in right, cut the Twins' lead to 6-5 and set the stage for the winning surge in the eighth.

A walk to pinch hitter Tim Talton loaded the bases. The Twins brought in Ron Kline to face another pinch hitter, Ken Suarez, but Dark then switched to Dick Green "because he told me he has good luck against Green swung hard at the first pitch, fouling it off. Then he fooled the Twins with a perfect bunt, scoring Danny Cater. Ossie Chavarria took his .098 average to the plate and hit the first pitch, "a fast ball right down the middle" for a gamewinning two-run single.

Yellowed Blind Tapes Disrupt Decor for Her

By POLLY CRAMER Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Polly's Pointers

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY-Please, will you ask one of your kind and wise friends out there to provide me with a wee bit of wisdom? Less than two years ago I replaced two of my old white cloth-taped Venetian blinds with new plastic-taped ones and the crazy tapes have turned yellow, which I neither like nor appreciate. I have soaked them in practically every cleaning agent on the market and still have superwhite slats and yellowed tapes.-

DEAR MRS. T. P.—I am sure that if there is a cure for your woes one of our readers will have it. If not, you might try what I did. I covered yellowed tapes with grosgrain ribbon (a color to go with the room's scheme) the same width as the tapes. This was quickly and easily stapled on. Since the ribbon was navy blue, the tops of the staples were first treated to a quick brush over with black paint so they were not easily seen—POLLY not easily seen .-- POLLY

DEAR POLLY—Trash cans were always being turned over in our neighborhood and the contents scattered. One of my neighbors put his on an 18-inch-square platform, drove two iron pipes into the ground on each side of the can so the handles slipped down over the pipes. We all liked this plan and the results. Since adopting the plan (some used wooden stakes) we have a much neater neighborhood.-

DEAR POLLY-Tell Mary that one way to get the spoiled meat odor out of her freezer is to put vanilla flavoring in a dish in the freezer and keep it there for a day or two. An even quicker way is to wipe the freezer out with a cloth soaked with the vanilla.—BETTY

DEAR POLLY—Mary could put some activated charcoal in her freezer to remove the odor. Leave it two or three days with the door closed and perhaps change it once during that time. My refrigerator dealer told me to do this and it worked like a charm.—LUCILLE

DEAR POLLY-To remove odors from a freezer or refrigerator, put one pound of fresh coffee grounds in a cloth bag, tie it up and place inside. Leave until all odor disappears. This even removed the odor of garlic from my freezer .-

Mary, take your pick. Surely if one of these does not work for the persistent odor of spoiled meat another will. Good luck.—POLLY

DEAR POLLY—I appreciate the help the column has been giving Harold's wife, who lost an arm. My 2-year-old daughter has cerebral palsy and we have a wonderful solution for bath time. For $8 we bought an actual size plastic boat at a discount store. Placed on an old kitchen table, it can be filled from the basement faucet and the water later siphoned into the floor drain. This allows our daughter to stretch out full-length and paddle round and round. If she bumps the plastic side it does not hurt her. This is high enough so we do not have to bend over as we watch and bathe her. She has gained crawling techniques since we started this and vocalizes so that both the occupational and speech therapists feel we have discovered a wonderful piece of equipment. She loves every minute in the tub and has no fear of the water. Of course, we keep very close watch every minute she is in the boat.—MRS. D. W. M.

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY-I have recently become the proud owner of several very old porcelain washbowl and pitcher sets. I would like to display them in my home but they have dark yellow stains in the cracks and the bottoms of the bowls. I have tried bleach, cleansers and scrubbing pads but to no avail. I hope one of the readers will have the solution as I would like to make them as presentable as possible.—MRS. J. F. W.

DEAR POLLY-Place a card with your name and telephone number AT WORK on the inside of the windshield of your car. In case of an accident to the car while it is parked, you can be promptly notified. A thoughtful parking attendant called me when he noticed one of my tires had gone flat. Thanks to him, I was able to be home on time as I could get my tire fixed before quitting time.-MYRA

DEAR POLLY-and Marinette-I am pleased to pass on the method I use for removing grease spots from wallpaper. Mix fuller's earth with noninflammable cleaning fluid to make a paste. Apply to the spot and allow to remain there until dry. Brush the powder off the wall and the spot will be gone.—BARBARA

GIRLS—If a circle should remain, apply a mixture of powder and water, let dry and wipe off. If the paper has strong colors and a pattern, try an inconspicuous spot, or a leftover piece, to see if the fluid causes any "running" of colors.—POLLY opera usually sounds just thatmodern, its atonality hurting ears attuned to "La Boheme."

New Opera Usually Oldfashioned Matter

Despite its sound, however, modern opera usually is oldfashioned in subject matter.

Metropolitan Opera gave two world premieres this past season, one about Cleopatra, the other the Greek Electra story as reset in New England by playwright Eugene O'Neill

The Boston Opera premiered an opera about Moses, and the Washington Opera one about the 6th century Count Momar-

But in Germany the Hamburg State Opera commissioned an opera for last season from New York-born Gunthere Schuller and he went present-day all the way. He wrote modern serial music mixed with cool, antiseptic jazz and his own libretto, making his protagonist a Negro in the American South, and using Franz Kafka's plot of "The

The music in Schuller's first opera sounded exciting to critics in Hamburg; amateurish to critics in New York. But weighing heavier than the music seemed to be how "The Visitation" came across as theater. It was obviously more effective in Hamburg

In New York, where plays about Negro-white relationships abound and Kafka doesn't, "The Visitation" was viewed as a attempt to show race hatred, and it was derided as naive.

One girl at a film festival party wore a crocheted, seethrough "dress" of bathing-suit proportions over a body-stocking. Even the movie stars, not to mention people from the comparatively sophisticated Soviet cultural scene, were shocked. Less sophisticated, less worldly Muscovites are not taking this invasion calmly

Carnival For Dystrophy Victims Here

A neighborhood carnival for muscular dystrophy victims will be held Saturday, July 22, at 2413 Golf, with Roger Fingland, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Fngland, serving as ringmaster, assisted by Tom Robinson, Randy Wampler, Eric Doering, Marla Fullerton, Diana Huddleston, and Sharon Nease.

The carnival, which begins at 9:30 a.m. and lasts until noon, will feature penny pitch, milk bottle drop, sponge toss, marble shoot, fortune telling and many other booths. Refreshments will also be sold. Proceeds will go to aid the fight against dystrophy and related diseases.

This will be the third such carnival staged by the young people who last year forwarded over $30 to the regional office of the Muscular Dystrophy Association of America. Last year, more than 12,600 carnivals were held by children across the country, and over $213,600 was raised for MDAA's research and patient service programs.

Jones is a tall, gentle-looking American Negro bass-baritone, born in Tenille, Ga., on a Feb. 29. He was named McHenry Rutherford Boatwright.

Boatwright has a long list of singing credits, most of them concerts, ever getting into the sunshine of fame and publicity

After he arrived at the Hamburg State Opera last fall, the company also offered him a 'Boris Godunov,' but he turned it down because of the difficulties of learning the role of Carter Jones.

Even in July, Cadillac is the newest car you can buy.

With all of its richness and elegance, superb comfort and truly exceptional driving qualities—the current Cadillac is always, regardless of year or season, the newest car you can buy. This is indisputably true of the 1967 Standard of the World. Cadillac's highly advanced engineering, exemplified both by the front-wheel-drive Fleetwood Eldorado and the eleven other exciting Cadillac models, still remains years ahead of its time. In terms of handling ease and quiet performance, no other car is the equal of the world's most sought-after luxury automobile. There's also Cadillac's tasteful, evolutionary styling . . . a significant reason why Cadillacs of all ages are recognized as Cadillacs regardless of their year of manufacture. And testifying to this almost timeless appeal is Cadillac's remarkably high resale value. Two- and three-year-old Cadillacs-and even some of the earlier models-are in greater demand than many other automobiles that are presently in production. So visit your authorized Cadillac dealer at your very first opportunity. You'll quickly discover that there's nothing newer than a new Cadillac.

Carrying a baby like a papoose is a new vogue. A manufacturer of infant's seats came up with a heavy-duty twill sling to meet the trend. For seating comfort, it has a foam-cushioned board seat and a wide belt for mother's shoulder. This carrying technique leaves her hands free for packages or purse.
